Summary of work carried out during last two weeks

Fine tune all the UIs to feel consistency

Make changes on many tables with adding new flags to describe those and increase usability

Add some common functions to repeatable routines change some basic business logics to advance to keep those more realistic (example: when the property drop by owner , it is not actually delete , only update some flag on property table)

Do some research on payment gateways and finally found the STRIPE is best in this case
